From the President...

Hello Fellow Lions!

Well, the weather has turned, days are getting shorter and darkness is longer. Be careful driving – roads will be getting slicker with wet and cold weather.

We continue to support the Spanaway Historical Society by providing hands-on work at the barn, the Historical Museum and the grounds around the area. If you could spare a few hours once a month on a Saturday, it would be very helpful. Lunch is always provided and a “good” lunch at that!

Our club is thinking about a yard sale this summer. Lion Colleen Ludford has agreed to co-host this event. Is there anyone else who would be willing to help her? It would be greatly appreciated! Start saving your “stuff” for our sale. All moneys collected will be put in our activity fund for our community projects.

At our first dinner meeting in January, Past Council Chairman, Mike Gayda, from the Spanapark Lions Club will conduct a “Lions Orientation” for all our new members. Mike is an excellent speaker and I’m sure you will enjoy his presentation. It will also help refresh all you “old timers” !!

One other thing, there has been a lot of talking from members at their chairs when someone has the floor. It is not only impolite, but makes it difficult for others to hear the person who has the floor. Please keep the chatter down.

We will only have one dinner meeting in December. It will be the first meeting of that month and will be our annual Christmas party at Fir Lane Funeral Home. Lion Nancy Slade is making a list of people who are bringing food. Let her know if you haven’t done so already.

Thank You,

King Lion George

Lion Darrell Behounek says when his wife gets a little upset, sometimes he says a simple “Calm down” in a soothing voice, which is all it takes to get her a lot upset.

The following is reprinted from the November Lions Magazine.

Gig Harbor, Washington, ends up on magazine lists of “best small towns” or in newspaper stories on weekend getaways. Located near the towering Tacoma Narrows Bridge, the town of 7,000 on Puget Sound has boutiques, fine dining, and most of all, a picture-perfect waterfront. Gig Harbor Lions leverage the attractiveness of their town by producing a calendar with gallery-quality photographs. Lions believed their 2012 calendar was especially well-done, so they printed 5,000 calendars instead of the usual 500. The club had no trouble selling them!
